STATE LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

July 1, 1996 - June 30, 1998

The last two years have been very eventful ones for the Vermont Department of Libraries. At the end of October, 1997, State Librarian, Patricia E. Klinck retired after 27 years of service at the Department. Appointed State Librarian in 1977, Patty also served as a regional librarian in St. Albans, Assistant State Librarian and Director of Development and Extension Services. Patty has left an indelible mark on the DOL and on the wider Vermont library community. Her contributions are invaluable, and she will be missed not only professionally, but personally.

In November, 1997, I was appointed State Librarian. Though I had worked at DOL for nearly 18 years, serving as Head of Reference, Law and Documents, and Director of Library and Information Services, many of the responsibilities of state librarian, such as budget preparation, legislative relations and federal funding, were entirely new to me. The past two years have been a learning experience which continues to this day.

An improved economic outlook in FY97-98, combined with consolidation of the regional library program allowed DOL to begin rebuilding certain areas of its budget, especially regional library book collections. We are making every effort to find levels and types of services that will be sustainable in good times and bad, and that anticipate the needs of local libraries as we enter the new millennium. To that end, we plan to continue our restructuring and reduce the number of regional library facilities from three to two and to improve services especially in the areas of training, consulting, and technology.

Besides restructuring, DOL also reorganized into three Divisions and all professional positions were reviewed and upgraded for the first time in a decade. Marianne Kotch became Director of Public Library Support Services, overseeing regional library services, statewide library development and continuing education. Marjorie Zunder became Director of Library and Information Services, overseeing reference, interlibrary loan, law and documents, technical services and special services. A new Information Technology Division, headed by Sheila Kearns, Information Technology Manager, now oversees the Vermont Automated Libraries System (VALS), library automation and other technology-related issues.

1997 was the first year for the new federal library program and funding, now called Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) and managed by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS). LSTA has a "broad mandate to use technology to bring information to people in new and interesting ways, and to assure that library service is accessible to all--especially those who have difficulty using the library." DOL's new five-year plan for library development and information access is based on this mandate and in fact, DOL's LSTA plan was chosen as a model by IMLS. As part of its plan, DOL hopes to help local libraries use technology to increase access to information and to help provide access to types of information not readily affordable at the local level.

The use of technology especially for public access to VALS, the internet and other resources made advances in the past two years with 1/3 of all public libraries using VALS also offering direct public access. To assist libraries in managing the costs of telecommunications necessary for such access, the federal Telecommunications Act of 1996 expanded the concept of universal service and obligated all telecommunications carriers to provide "services to elementary schools, secondary schools, and libraries for educational purposes at rates less than the amounts charged for similar services to other parties." In the first round of a complicated application process, 37 public libraries received more than $55,000 in "e-rate" discounts.

Enhancements to VALS during this time included a "web interface" for the DOL online catalog (DOLcat) and the public libraries' catalog (PUBcat). A new online union catalog for the holdings of Vermont elementary and secondary schools (K12cat) also became available.

In 1997, the Vermont General Assembly adopted 22 VSA §67 reiterating the importance of free public libraries in Vermont. This legislation also emphasized public libraries' role as community centers:

PUBLIC LIBRARIES; STATEMENT OF POLICY; USE OF FACILITIES AND RESOURCES

- (a) The general assembly declares it to be the policy of the state of Vermont that free public libraries are essential to the general enlightenment of citizens in a democracy and that every citizen of the state of Vermont should have access to the educational, cultural, recreational, informational and research benefits of a free public library.
- (b) The trustees, managers or directors of a public library may use library resources as a community center. Community centers may serve as forums and exhibition areas for the exchange of ideas that encourage the growth of artistic, educational, literary and scientific knowledge as well as the intercultural understanding of the Vermont citizenry. Public libraries may cooperate with community groups to provide these services.

Though this is my first biennial report, it is the last of this century and millenium. As Vermont's libraries move ahead and plan for the 21st century, the Department of Libraries hopes to continue its 30 year tradition of supporting and strengthening local libraries in their efforts to improve and extend library services to all Vermonters.

I would like to thank Governor Howard Dean, Secretary of Administration Kathy Hoyt, the members of the General Assembly, and the Board of Libraries for their support of the Department in its many endeavors. And thank you all for your patience and support over the past two years, and I look forward to working with you all in the future.

GEOGRAPHIC NAME DECISIONS MADE BY THE VERMONT BOARD OF LIBRARIES

July 1, 1996 - June 30, 1998

According to 10 VSA 152-4, the board of libraries is designated as the state agency to name roads and geographic locations including but not limited to mountains, streams, lakes, and ponds upon petition signed by not less than twenty-five interested persons or by petition of an administrative department of the state. In the past biennium, the Vermont Board of Libraries made the following decisions:

June 18, 1997 - Pearl Harbor Memorial Highway - Vermont Route 105 from the New Hampshire state line to St. Albans.

October 23, 1997 - Veterans Memorial Bridge - a bridge over the West River on the east end of the village of Londonderry.

December 16, 1997 - Chester A. Arthur Memorial Highway - Vermont Route 36 from Bakersfield to Swanton.

STATISTICS OF LOCAL LIBRARIES

Every year, public libraries supply statistics to the Department of Libraries for their fiscal years ending prior to November 1 of that year. In the fall of 1998, about half of the public libraries supplied statistics for the year ending December 31, 1997, and the other half supplied statistics for the year ending June 30, 1998. These statistics are published in the 1999 Supplement to the Biennial Report of the Vermont Department of Libraries, 1996-98, which is available on request from the Department's Director of Public Library Support Services, 828-2320. Data is listed alphabetically by town of location and is also grouped by population served so that it may be used for comparison purposes. The Supplement also includes school, academic, and special library data for the previous year.

Summary of Public Library Statistics, 1997-98

Vermont public library use and support showed healthy increases in the 1997-98 fiscal year. With its 200 public libraries, Vermont ranks first in the nation in the number of libraries per capita and per square mile. Of the total state population of approx. 563,000, 545,000 (97%) have public library service available in their towns or by contract (formal or informal) with another town's library.

VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1999

Resource sharing underlies all Vermont library service. This directory is meant to further communication on many levels among the staffs of libraries of all types and among public library trustees. All 566 libraries that participate in the Vermont Resource Sharing Network are included - all of the state's public, academic, institutional, and special libraries, as well as many public and private school libraries.

Libraries by type

College and university libraries	25
Hospital libraries	14
Institution libraries	16
Public libraries	194
School libraries	273
Special libraries	34
State government agency libraries	10
	566

This directory updates the Vermont Library Directory, 1997 which was included in the Biennial Report of the Vermont Department of Libraries, 1994-96. It is not necessary to keep any previous directory of Vermont libraries, but the statistics found in past biennial reports may be useful for future comparison. Corrections, additions, and deletions will be published regularly in the Department of Libraries News. The Directory is also available online at the Department's website: <http://dol.state.vt.us>.

New libraries. Twelve additional public and private school libraries, one special library (Tim's Community Library), and one new college library (Woodbury College) began contributing to the Vermont Union Catalog in the 1996-98 biennium and are, thus, included in this Directory.

Libraries no longer included. Libraries listed in the last Directory but not included in this edition are:

BURLINGTON - Univ. of Vermont - Robert Hull Fleming Museum
COVENTRY - Riley E. Wright Memorial, closed in 1998
DUXBURY - Duxbury Elem. School, absorbed by two new schools in Waterbury
GRANVILLE - Public, closed in 1996
LANDGROVE - Public, closed in 1998
ROYALTON - Memorial branch, closed in 1997
Underhill Center - Delaporte Memorial, merged with Waters Memorial into Deborah Rawson Memorial, Jericho-Underhill, 1997

This directory is arranged alphabetically by the township in which the library is physically located. Town names are listed in upper case letters, and villages within those towns are in upper and lower case letters (see BARNET and McIndoe Falls, #11 and #13). The authority used to determine what is a township is the Vermont Yearbook (National Survey, Chester, VT). A library's mailing address may be completely different from its physical location

(e.g., the Belcher Memorial Library is physically located in the town of STOCKBRIDGE but its mailing address is Gayville). Cross references are provided. If there is more than one library located in a town, the public library (or libraries) is listed first, followed by other libraries arranged in alphabetical order by name. Following is a sample listing with an explanation of each entry.

Each entry includes the following:

Directory no. - will be used by the Department of Libraries News when listing changes.

Town - in upper case letters. Villages within towns are in upper/lower case letters.

Library name and address - the word "Library" has been dropped from the end of each library's name. The mailing address follows the name.

Telephone no. - unless otherwise noted, the area code is 802.

FAX - telefacsimile number if available.

VALS username - used by libraries dialing into the Vermont Automated Libraries System (VALS). If the library has no VALS username, but does have an internet email address, it is included.

VUC symbol - the Vermont Union Catalog symbol, a short form notation on cataloging information supplied by libraries and used for interlibrary loan communication..

Librarian/home telephone no. - If a phone number is given, it is usually the librarian's home number and should be used with discretion. If the librarian has an internet email address different from the library's, it is included.

Trustee chair/home telephone no. - If given, the name of the last reported chairperson or president of a public library board of trustees.

Open hours - Generally, these apply year-round unless summer hours (usually corresponding with the school calendar) are noted. Call the library for specific dates of change between winter and summer or vacation hours. Note that the librarian may not always be on duty during open hours.

Helpful lists follow the Directory entries and may further help you navigate the listings:

- Libraries by type - listed alphabetically by location with township in uppercase letters
- Public libraries by consulting region - listed alphabetically by location within region
- Vermont Union Catalog symbols
- Index - by library name and directory number
